EU General Data Protection Regulation Privacy Notice

This is the Georgia Institute of Technology's (Georgia Tech) Stamps Health Services privacy and legal notice for compliance with the European Union General Data Protection Regulation ("EU GDPR"). For more information regarding the EU GDPR, please review Georgia Tech's EU General Data Protection Regulation Compliance Policy.

Lawful Basis for Collecting and Processing of Personal Data

Georgia Tech is an institute of higher education involved in education, research, and community development. In order for Georgia Tech to process immunization documents and other medical information to satisfy the University System of Georgia immunization requirements, and other medical information as may be needed to provide continuity of patient care, it must collect, use and process this personal data.

The lawful basis for the collection and processing of personal data by Georgia Tech's Stamps Health Services falls under the following categories:

- Processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by Georgia Tech or third parties in providing educational services.
- The data subject has given consent to the processing of his or her special categories of sensitive personal data for one or more specific purposes, including without limitation the processing of immunization documents to satisfy the University System of Georgia immunization requirements.

Types of Personal Data collected and why

In order for Georgia Tech to collect required immunization and medical data, it needs to collect the following categories of personal data:

- Name
- Contact information including, without limitation, email address, physical address, phone number, and other location data
- Unique personal identifiers and biographical information (e.g. date of birth)
- Medical information including, without limitation, immunization records

The personal data collected by Georgia Tech's Stamps Health Services is not shared with other Georgia Tech Units or external third parties.

If you have specific questions regarding the collection and use of your personal data, please contact the Office of Enterprise Data Management at eugdpr@edm.gatech.edu

If a data subject refuses to provide personal data that is required by Georgia Tech in connection with one of Georgia Tech's lawful bases to collect such personal data, such refusal may make it impossible for Georgia Tech to provide education, employment, research or other requested services.

Where Georgia Tech gets Personal and Sensitive Personal Data

Georgia Tech receives personal and sensitive personal data from multiple sources. Most often, Georgia Tech gets this data directly from the data subject or under the direction of the data subject who has provided it to a third party (for example, application for undergraduate admission to Georgia Tech through use of the Common App).

Individual Rights of the Data Subject under the EU GDPR

Individual data subjects covered by Georgia Tech's EU General Data Protection Regulation Compliance Policy will be afforded the following rights:

- a) information about the controller collecting the data
- b) the data protection officer contact information
- c) the purposes and legal basis/legitimate interests of the data collection/processing
